Reflection

Reflect upon your responses to each of the Missing Piece objectives.

Objective 1 - Relationship Building - Relationship building is an area of strength for Ockerman Elementary. All staff members make conscious efforts to build and sustain positive relationships with families of the students. While it is difficult to balance maintaining a safe environment for students and creating an environment that welcomes families, we feel that we are able to meet this challenge effectively. We offer a wide variety of communication methods so that all parents have access to information or contact from the school. Our greatest challenge in this area is that of our non English speaking families. We offer as many things as we can in dual languages and use programs such as Affordable Language Services which is a verbal translation service, translator software and programs. We also try to target potential new hires in all areas of the building that are bi lingual in an effort to facilitate communication between school and home.

Objective 2 - Communications - Communications is an area that Ockerman Elementary continues to increase with each day. We offer a wide variety of communication methods so that all parents have access to information or contact from the school. Our greatest challenge in this area is that of our non English speaking families. We offer as many things as we can in dual languages and use programs such as Affordable Language Services which is a verbal translation service, translator software and programs. We also try to target potential new hires in all areas of the building that are bi lingual in an effort to facilitate communication between school and home.

Objective 3 - Decision Making - In the area of decision making, we work to make sure that you are involving parents as much as possible. Due to our population, we have an 8 member council which includes 3 parent representatives. We have been very fortunate to be able to have one of our parent members continue to be on the council for the last 4 years. This has enabled him to become an active and respected member of council. One of our goals for school is to gain a greater involvement of parents and community members in the decision making process. Parents are always invited and welcome to attend all open SBDM meetings and we are seeking out parents in an ongoing basis to serve on various committees that have an impact on student learning.

Objective 4 - Advocacy - At Ockerman, a goal of ours is to provide an environment in which parents take the responsibility for understanding and speaking up for their child's needs. Through the ongoing work to build relationships and increase the level of communication we hope that more and more parents will be active in increasing their own knowledge of their child's needs. Through the offering of parent classes, information sessions and acting as a resource, we are on our way to doing our part to increase the parents ability to advocate for their child.

Objective 5 - Learning Opportunities - Ockerman currently offers parenting classes, information sessions as well as family nights in order to increase parent understanding so that parents can attain higher levels of ability to support their child's learning. Multiple resources are offered by classroom teachers as well as through community and district programs.

Objective 6 - Community Partnerships - This is the area that we continue to work with in order to increase our community involvement. While we have a large number of community partners that work with the school in various areas of need, we have not been able to involve the community in student achievement to the level that we would like to.
