

Summer Opportunities

As of 1/16/19

1. The Governors School for Entrepreneurs is offering the opportunity for you to take part in a three week residential program, to bring out your innate entrepreneurial spirits for the betterment of Kentucky. For further information please stop by the guidance office or contact Natasha Sams at (859)-583-7066 or at tasha@keenstart.org
2. Duke University is offering a summer session for students. Participants will have the opportunity to take University courses to gain college credit, take part in an Accelerated STEM Academy, or partake in the Summer Academy to gain leadership skills. Apply here: <https://summersession.duke.edu/high-school-students>
3. University of Cincinnati is offering annual men's and women's engineering summer camps. Rising high school juniors and seniors are eligible to participate in the one week non-residential opportunity to interact with industry professionals. Applications accepted January 14th – February 15th, apply here:
Women: <https://ceas.uc.edu/about/news-events/camps/women-in-engineering-and-applied-science-summer-camp.html>
Men: <https://ceas.uc.edu/about/news-events/camps/men-in-engineering-and-applied-science-summer-camp.html>