

Ockerman Elementary Site Based Article 1.3

Ockerman Elementary School Council Philosophy

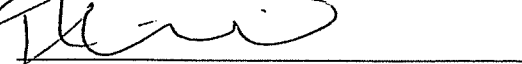

We at Ockerman Elementary School believe that education is of ever-increasing importance and that all children should be afforded an educational opportunity, regardless of economic, racial, or religious background, national origin, sex, or special need.

We believe that a student develops as a whole and that the school must create a climate in which the individual student, whatever his/her capabilities, may thrive. Each student deserves the opportunity to realize his/her potential, and as educators, we believe the school program should, and must in order to develop each child's capabilities, be flexible and include the development of all students. Because of the differences that exist among students in achievement, we must direct our program to meet the individual needs of each child. We recognize that differences will always exist in individual capabilities, but we will continue to strive for academic excellence for all students.

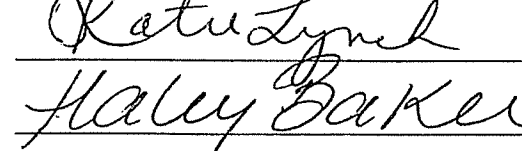

We recognize the importance of parent and community involvement in the educational process and throughout the year provide activities and programs that are structured to develop a positive relationship between parents, students, teachers, and the community. Our educational activities will be based on the Standards set by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, with emphasis being placed on helping all students achieve at high levels.
