English II / English II Honors Recommended Summer Reading

English II and II Honors students focus on multicultural literature and the idea of culture. Culture is defined as the customs, arts, social institutions, and achievements of a particular nation, people, or other social group. To help prepare students for this experience, we are recommending all students who will take either of these courses to read a full length fiction or nonfiction book of the appropriate reading level that focuses on a culture different than their own. Students will participate in class activities when they return to school focusing on their chosen book. Students should log their book through the Cooper Website's Summer Reading Google Form https://tinyurl.com/RCHSSummerReading .

Recommendations from English II Teachers:
Funny in Farsi
A Long Way Gone
Persepolis
American Born Chinese
I am Malala

Not sure what your appropriate reading level is? Lexile.com helps match your reading level to novels based on information you put into its search engine. You can access it here: https://fab.lexile.com/

NOTE: This must not be a book that you have read as part of a school assignment in previous years. Due to District policy, Thirteen Reasons Why is not an acceptable novel to read for summer reading.
